

Eve Cunningham, MD MBA

Group Vice President and Chief of Virtual Care and Digital Health for Providence

Dr. Cunningham currently serves as Group Vice President and Chief of Virtual Care and Digital Health for Providence which includes several virtual care enterprise service lines, telehealth, a hospital at home, remote patient monitoring programs, virtual nursing team, digital product incubation and a digital clinical content team.

Dr. Cunningham joined Providence St. Joseph Health in 2017 as the Chief Medical Officer of Providence Medical Group Southwest. She is board certified in Obstetrics and Gynecology and has practiced for over 12 years in the South Puget Sound community. Prior to joining Providence, Dr. Cunningham served as Service Line Medical Director and Division Chief of Women's, Children's, Urgent Care and Virtual Care Services at CHI- Franciscan Health (currently, Virginia Mason Franciscan Health) in Tacoma, WA.

During her time at both CHI and Providence, Dr. Cunningham has developed a strong passion for applied technologies and care transformation in healthcare, with a goal of improving the cross-continuum care experience. Dr. Cunningham has a strong background in clinical informatics, clinical operations, and leading transformational change.

Dr. Cunningham received her medical degree at Saint Louis University School of Medicine and postgraduate residency training at Kaiser Los Angeles Medical Center. She received her Master's in Business Administration from University of Massachusetts-Amherst.