

Gail K. Boudreaux

President and Chief Executive Officer, Elevance Health

Gail Boudreaux serves as president and chief executive officer of Elevance Health, where she leads the company's efforts to deliver simple, affordable and accessible healthcare. Her career scaling multi-billion-dollar businesses in the healthcare industry spans more than 30 years, including six years as CEO of UnitedHealthcare, a division of UnitedHealth Group, and executive roles at Health Care Service Corporation and Aetna Inc. Today, she oversees Elevance Health's more than 100,000 associates and serving 112 million people, as well as a growing portfolio of plans and subsidiaries that generated revenue of $175 billion in 2024.

Gail has been named as one of Fortune Magazine's Most Powerful Women in Business and featured by Forbes as one of the 100 Most Powerful Women in the World. She has been named by Modern Healthcare as one of the 100 Most Influential People in Healthcare, and she also received the Billie Jean King Leadership Award and the NCAA Theodore Roosevelt Award. She earned a bachelor's degree with honors from Dartmouth College and an MBA with distinction from Columbia Business School.

Gail currently serves on the board of directors for Target, the Central Indiana Corporate Partnership, Inc., Blue Cross Blue Shield Association, the Business Council, the National Institute for Health Care Management, and American Health Insurance Plans.