

AMY L. RONNEBERG

National Marrow Donor Program (NMDP)

Board Member, Chief Executive Officer

Amy Ronneberg has over 30 years of experience driving strategic and financial excellence to organizations ranging from start-ups to billion-dollar companies. Ms. Ronneberg is the CEO of NMDP, managing the world's most diverse registry of volunteer donors for hematopoietic cell transplants, connecting patients with donors for life-saving blood stem cell transplants.

Ms. Ronneberg became CEO in March 2020 and is responsible for setting the overall strategic direction and leading an organization of professionals and volunteers dedicated to creating a world where every patient can receive their life-saving cell therapy. Prior to her CEO role, she joined the organization as Chief Financial Officer from 2013 to 2020 and President of NMDP BioTherapies from 2017 to 2020 where she developed a new business model, started three new subsidiaries and transformed the culture.

Prior to joining NMDP, Ms. Ronneberg spent 12 years at Capella Education Company, where she served in leadership roles including Chief Accounting Officer, Vice President of Finance and Vice President of Operations. She also worked for Ernst & Young for several years as an Audit Manager.

Ms. Ronneberg has served on many boards and is currently on the board of Allina Health and Medical Alley Association and on the finance committee for the World Marrow Donor Association. Ms. Ronneberg is a faculty member for WBL in HealthCare where she prepares women for board service.

Ms. Ronneberg received her B.S. in Accounting and Masters in Business Administration. She recently completed the Corporate Directorship Certification at Harvard Business School.
