Samuel “Sam” Ginn, Chairman
Board of Directors
First Responder Network Authority
Term: 2 years

Sam Ginn has been a leader in the telecommunications industry for more than four decades, beginning his career in 1960 as an engineer with AT&T. He later transitioned to Pacific Telephone in the mid-‘70s and rose up through the ranks to become chairman and CEO of Pacific Telesis from 1988-1994.

He is an early pioneer in the wireless phone industry, launching AirTouch wireless phone company while at PacTel. He served as AirTouch’s chairman from 1993-1999. In 1999, Vodafone acquired Airtouch, and Mr. Ginn assumed the position of chairman in the United Kingdom. Mr. Ginn currently serves as Senior Advisor at Greenhill LLC, a Wall Street advisory firm, and is Director of OnDot Systems, Inc. He has significant board of directors experience, currently serving on the boards of Franklin Templeton Funds and Eisenhower Medical Center in Rancho Mirage, California.

He previously served on boards for ICO Global Communications, CH2M Hill, First Interstate Bank, Pacific Telesis Group, Safeway, Transamerica Corporation, Vodafone, AirTouch Communications, Chevron Corporation, and Hewlett-Packard.

Mr. Ginn is a resident of California and a graduate of Auburn University’s College of Engineering, which in 2001 was renamed the Samuel Ginn College of Engineering.
