Attachment—Additional Questions for the Record

The Honorable Elliot Engel

1. Sergeant Finley – first, let me thank you for the tremendous work you’ve done to address this issue and for sharing your expertise with us. You mention in your testimony that the phony emergencies swatters call in “require a large law enforcement response.” Would you expand on that a bit? Just how many officers does it take to respond to these calls, and how much of their time is occupied mounting that response?
