Shaun W. Mock Bio

Shaun W. Mock is the Chief Financial Officer of Snapping Shoals Electric Membership Corporation in Covington, GA. Snapping Shoals EMC is a member-owned electric utility cooperative serving approximately 97,000 accounts in the southeastern portions of metro Atlanta. SSEMC prides itself with providing top-notch customer service and reliable service at the lowest possible cost to its member-owners. Snapping Shoals EMC members enjoy some of the lowest rates among all 94 electric providers in Georgia.

As CFO, Mr. Mock is primarily responsible for the consumer and administrative functions of the Cooperative including finance, accounting, forecasting, customer service, billing, collections, and field services. Mr. Mock has worked with electric cooperatives in varying capacities for the past 16 years. He began his cooperative journey with a large regional CPA firm that specializes in audit, tax, and consulting services for electric cooperatives clients located primarily within the Southeastern United States. Other experience includes 5 years at The Satilla Rural Electric Membership Corporation as Accounting Supervisor and eventually Accounting Manager. Prior to his existing post as CFO, Mr. Mock served as the Vice President of Finance and Administration at Snapping Shoals EMC with additional responsibilities including human resources, safety, and loss control.

Mr. Mock is a cum laude graduate of Mercer University, earning degrees in both accounting and finance. He earned a Master of Accountancy degree from the University of Georgia in 2004 and became a Certified Public Accountant in 2005. Mr. Mock is a past president of the Georgia EMC Accounting Association and currently serves on the supervisory board of Georgia EMC Federal Credit Union. He and his wife Laura have two young daughters, Hannah (9) and Madelyn (2). Mr. Mock is a member of Bethany Baptist Church in McDonough, GA where he also serves on the church's finance committee and coaches' Upward basketball.
