

James Assey
Executive Vice President of NCTA – The Internet & Television
Association

James Assey currently holds the position of Executive Vice President of NCTA – The Internet & Television Association. Prior to his position at NCTA, Mr. Assey was a long-time staff member on the U.S Senate Committee on Commerce, Science and Transportation chaired by U.S Senator Daniel K. Inouye (D-HI). Most recently, he was Senior Democratic Counsel to the committee, and earlier was Senior Democratic Counsel on Communications and Media Issues. Mr. Assey also served as Telecommunications Counsel for U.S Senator Ernest F. Hollings (D-SC). Mr. Assey has also held positions as Communications Associate in the Washington, D.C office of Willkie, Farr and Gallagher, Law Clerk for the Honorable Cameron M. Currie in the U.S District Court for the District of South Carolina, and Legislative Assistant to Senator Hollings.

Mr. Assey is a graduate of Stanford University and earned his JD from Georgetown University Law School. Mr. Assey is also a current adjunct faculty member at Georgetown University Law School.

In April of 2009, Mr. Assey was chosen to be on the Federal Communications Commission's Advisory Committee on Diversity for Communications in the Digital Age chaired by Acting FCC Chairman Michael Copps.