

JEFFREY A. CAMPBELL
VICE PRESIDENT, GOVERNMENT AFFAIRS AND TECHNOLOGY POLICY

Jeffrey A. Campbell is Vice President, Government Affairs and Technology Policy for Cisco Systems, Inc., the global leader for networking for the Internet. Mr. Campbell leads government affairs activities for Cisco in the western hemisphere. Since 2001, he has been responsible for developing and implementing Cisco's public policy agenda with respect to telecommunications, trade, energy, environment, security and technology issues. In addition to his expertise in telecommunications regulation, Mr. Campbell has been involved in public policy with respect to intellectual property law, Internet regulation, energy regulation, international trade and information technology regulation.

Mr. Campbell is a member of the Board of Directors of the California Emerging Technologies Fund and the Telecommunications Industry Association.

Prior to joining Cisco, Mr. Campbell headed the Washington government affairs office of Compaq Computer. Mr. Campbell began his career as a telecommunications regulatory attorney with the Washington, D.C. office of Squire, Sanders & Dempsey.

Mr. Campbell received his B.A. in History from Yale University and his J.D. from Georgetown University Law Center.