

Ron Saxton
JELD-WEN, inc.

Director and Corporate Secretary, JELD-WEN Board
Chief Administrative Officer
Executive Vice President

Ron Saxton joined JELD-WEN in 2007 and oversees most administrative functions, including corporate development, corporate communications, government relations and public affairs, legal, product integrity, risk management, employee and shareholder relations, and environmental compliance and stewardship, among other areas.

Prior to joining JELD-WEN, Saxton practiced law for over 25 years and co-founded the Ater Wynne law firm, serving as the firm's Chair from 1990 to 2001. His practice focused on business, regulatory and energy law, with emphasis on major corporate initiatives, regulatory issues, project development, manufacturing, public-private partnerships, and counseling senior management.

Saxton was the founding president of the Portland Schools Foundation, the state's largest public education foundation, was elected to the Portland Public Schools Board in 1997, serving as chair from 1998-2000 and has served on numerous charitable and governmental boards.

Saxton currently serves on several business association boards, including the National Association of Manufacturers, Green Building Initiative, Window and Door Manufacturers' Association, Associated Oregon Industries and Oregon Business Council, and a variety of non-profit organizations, including Oregon Public Broadcasting.

Saxton appeared on the KATU (ABC television affiliate) evening news as a political commentator, wrote a regular column for the Medford Mail Tribune, and was a lead consultant to the Chalkboard Project on education reform.

Saxton was the 2006 Republican nominee for Governor of Oregon.

Ron Saxton is a fourth generation Oregonian and lifelong resident of the state. Born and raised in Albany, Saxton graduated from West Albany High School, Willamette University and the University of Virginia. He is married to Lynne Hume Saxton, Chief Executive Officer of ChristieCare, a youth mental health service provider.

Saxton has received a variety of honors, including: Outstanding Lawyers of America, City of Portland Mayor's Award, Willamette University Distinguished Alumni, National Conference of Editorial Writers, Portland Chamber of Commerce Award for Public Service, and admission to the U.S. Supreme Court Bar.