

Ms. Brown is a Director in GAO's Education, Workforce, and Income Security team.

Throughout her 25-year career at GAO, Ms. Brown has focused on improving government performance in delivering benefits and services to low income and vulnerable children, families, and individuals.

Biography for Kay E. Brown

Ms. Brown is a Director in GAO's Education, Workforce, and Income Security team. Throughout her 25--year career at GAO, Ms. Brown has managed projects that focused on improving government performance in services to children, families, and individuals. She is currently responsible for leading GAO's work related to child welfare, child care, domestic nutrition assistance, TANF, and services for older adults.

Ms. Brown also worked in GAO's international affairs team. She traveled extensively throughout Africa, the Caribbean, and parts of Asia evaluating food assistance, refugee programs, and disaster assistance.

Ms. Brown has an M.P.A. from the University of Pittsburgh's Graduate School of Public and International Affairs. Before joining GAO, Ms. Brown worked for county government in Pennsylvania as a caseworker and manager in the human services department.