1 SEC. 2. FINDINGS.

2 Congress finds the following:

3 (1) Since the development of the Internet, on-
 4 line Web sites offering Internet poker have raised
 5 numerous policy, consumer protection, and enforce-
 6 ment concerns for Federal, State, and tribal govern-
 7 ments as such Web sites are run by operators lo-
 8 cated in many different countries and have sought to 9 attract customers from the United States.

10 (2) The Unlawful Internet Gambling Enforce-
 11 ment Act of 2006 (title VIII of Public Law 109– 12 347; 120 Stat. 1952) was intended to aid enforce-13 ment efforts against unlawful Internet operators and

1 to limit unlawful Internet gaming involving United 2 States persons. However, that Act has only been 3 partially successful in doing so.

4 (3) There is uncertainty about the laws of the 5 United States governing Internet poker, though not 6 about laws governing Internet sports betting. In 7 United States v. DiCristina a Federal District Court
8 for the Eastern District of New York held that 9 poker is a game in which skill is the predominant
10 factor in determining the outcome and that in pass-
11 ing the Illegal Gambling Businesses Act, Congress
12 only intended to criminalize clear games of chance.

13 (4) Additional tools to assist law enforcement in 14 the prevention of unlawful Internet gaming activities
15 would be important and beneficial. Maintenance of a 16 list of unlicensed Internet poker enterprises and the 17 owners, operators, and key personnel of such enter-
18 prises (as well as entities and related personnel 19 found unsuitable) would aid those law enforcement
20 efforts and would make the Unlawful Internet Gam-
21 bling Enforcement Act more effective.

22 (5) Poker is distinct from the class of games of 23 chance traditionally defined as gambling in that 24 players compete against each other, and not the per-25 son or entity hosting the game (sometimes called

1 “the house”), and that over any significant interval
2 the outcome of a poker game is predominantly deter-
3 mined by the skill of the participants.

4 (6) United States consumers would benefit from 5 a program of Internet poker regulation which recog-
6 nizes the interstate nature of the Internet, but nev-
7 ertheless preserves the prerogatives of States and 8 federally recognized Indian tribes. Such a system
9 would require strict licensing of Internet poker pro-10 viders and would require licensee operators to—

11 (A) have effective means to prevent minors
12 from playing poker on-line;

13 (B) identify and help treat problem gam-
14 blers;

15 (C) prevent minors and players in non-par-
16 ticipating States;

17 (D) allow players to self-exclude and limit 18 losses; and

19 (E) prevent money laundering.

20 (7) Such a program would create a new indus-
21 try within the United States creating thousands of 22 jobs and substantial revenue for Federal, State, and 23 tribal governments.
