

Remington A. Gregg

2020 F Street NW, Apt. 214, Washington, D.C., 20006 · 718.619.2152 (mobile) · remington.a.gregg@gmail.com

EXPERIENCE

PUBLIC CITIZEN

March 2016 to Present

Counsel for Civil Justice and Consumer Rights

- Direct Public Citizen's efforts to protect American consumers from corporate rip-offs and abuses, working on a portfolio that includes expanding access to justice for all people, eliminating "forced arbitration," expanding the use of class actions, and ensuring robust enforcement of product safety and consumer protection laws.
- Writes draft legislation, files complaints and submits comment letters with administrative agency, and leads several coalitions of civil rights and civil justice organizations.
- Significant media experience, serving as the organization's chief spokesperson on access to justice issues.

NAACP LEGAL DEFENSE & EDUCATION FUND

October to December 2016

Consulting Attorney

- Key implementer of the organization's unprecedented 2016 election year initiative to combat voter suppression efforts in states with a history of voting discrimination.
- Provided legal analysis on voting laws and policies, drafted pleadings for filing in state and federal court, and collaborated with local elected officials and civil rights advocates on election protection efforts.

HUMAN RIGHTS CAMPAIGN

October 2013 to August 2016

Legislative Counsel

- Counseled the nation's largest LGBT organization on federal legal and policy issues on education, racial and criminal justice, the military, immigration, foreign affairs, domestic violence, hate crimes, and profiling.
- Drafted proposed legislation and regulations, produced research on select issues, and provided legal support to the organization's federal lobbying efforts, such as drafting fact sheets and talking points, letters to relevant House and Senate committees, Members of Congress, testimony, and questions for hearings.
- Principal author of groundbreaking December 2015 report exposing educational institutions seeking a religious exemption from complying with Title IX.
- Provided research, analysis, and policy guidance for the organization's Foundation programs and publications.

THE WHITE HOUSE / OFFICE OF SCIENCE AND TECHNOLOGY POLICY

August 2010 to September 2013

Associate Counsel and Advisor for Open Government

- Counseled staffers on legal issues related to science, technology, and national security issues, including drafting contracts and agreements and processing complex FOIA requests.
- Advised agencies on ethics and transparency laws such as the Federal Advisory Committee Act (FACA), Paperwork Reduction Act (PRA), and Stop Trading on Congressional Knowledge (STOCK) Act.
- Served as a key staffer for the Administration's Open Government Initiative and supported agencies in implementing their open government initiatives. In addition, assisted in government-wide FOIA oversight and administration.
- Co-wrote the U.S. Open Government National Action Plan, released by President Barack Obama at the United Nations in September 2011, and co-wrote the U.S. Government Self-Assessment, released in March 2013.

EDUCATION

New York Law School (2010), cum laude

Juris Doctor: Dean's List and Honors, J. Stanley Shaw Scholarship, New York City Bar Fellow

Binghamton University, State University of New York (2006), magna cum laude

Bachelor of Arts: Philosophy, Politics, and Law (Honors Thesis and Phi Beta Kappa)

ADMISSIONS AND PROFESSIONAL MEMBERSHIPS

- New York State / District of Columbia
- Top Secret Security Clearance (Inactive)
- Founding Board Member, Stonewall National Museum & Archives Advisory Council