

Cameron March, WSU Student Athlete, Women's Golf, Team Captain

Cami March is a Senior at Washington State University located in Pullman, WA. Cami is originally from Los Angeles, California and is the daughter of Glen and Cabrini March, she has brother (Glen) and a sister (Cailyn). Cami's father played basketball at Queens College and her uncle (Garnett March) played football at the University of Utah.

Prior to coming to WSU, Cami played four years of golf and three years of softball at Marlborough School in Los Angeles where she golfed under Rick Reilly, earning four varsity letters and earning All-League first team in golf her sophomore and junior season and All-Conference and league MVP in softball her freshman, junior, and senior season.

She served as captain of the Marlborough School softball team for two years.

At WSU, while serving as the team Captain of WSU Women's golf and on the executive board of the Washington State Student-Athlete Advisory Committee, Cami is working to complete her Bachelor of Science degree in Digital Technology and Culture in 2022. Beyond the golf course, Cami has created a social media app that would revolutionize the way people create and coordinate plans with others and found activities to do in their city – "dwn".