

BIOGRAPHYs

CLARK GREGG

Clark Gregg is best known as Agent Phil Coulson in the Marvel Cinematic Universe, appearing in the movies, "Iron Man," "Iron Man 2," "Thor," "The Avengers," "Captain Marvel" and the long-running ABC hit, "Marvel's Agents of SHIELD."

Other films include "In Good Company," Joss Whedon's "Much Ado About Nothing," "The Adventures of Sebastian Cole" (Independent Spirit Awards Nomination) "State and Main," "Lovely and Amazing" "500 Days of Summer," "We Were Soldiers," and more.

Television roles include Arthur Sackler in "Painkiller" (Netflix), "Florida Man" (Netflix), "The New Adventures of Old Christine" with Julia Louis Dreyfus as well as "The West Wing," "Sports Night," "Will and Grace" and "Sex and the City."

An accomplished screenwriter and director, Gregg's screenwriting debut, "What Lies Beneath" (Dreamworks), starred Harrison Ford and Michelle Pfeiffer and his first feature, "Choke," won a Special Jury Prize at the 2008 Sundance Film Festival. He has directed episodes of "Agents of SHIELD" and "Florida Man."

PERSONAL INFORMATION

HOMETOWN: Chapel Hill, North Carolina

BIRTHDATE: April 2