HAROLD FITCH

Biography

Hal Fitch has served as Chief of the Office of Oil, Gas, and Minerals (OOGM) of the Michigan Department of Environmental Quality since 1996. The OOGM regulates oil, gas, and brine wells and facilities; underground disposal wells; mineral exploration test wells; and surface and underground mines.

Hal earned a Bachelor of Science degree in Geology from Michigan Technological University in 1972 and did graduate work in hydrology at the University of Arizona. He began his career as a geologist with the U.S. Geological Survey in Denver, Colorado. He then returned to his home state and joined the OOGM. Prior to his appointment as Chief of the OOGM, Hal worked as a field inspector, ground water specialist, and district supervisor, and was stationed at several field offices in northern Michigan as well as at Lansing.
