

Alfredo Gomez serves as a Director overseeing environmental protection and food safety issues in GAO's Natural Resources and Environment (NRE) team. Mr. Gomez returned to NRE after completing a 1-year rotation with the International Affairs and Trade (IAT) team as part of the SES candidate program. As an Acting Director in IAT, Mr. Gomez led a body of work related to international trade issues. Prior to his selection into the SES candidate program, Mr. Gomez was an Assistant Director in NRE where he produced numerous reports and testimonies addressing the safety of imported food, selected countries food safety systems, dietary supplements, and agencies' strategic planning and management. Mr. Gomez began his career in the Chicago Regional Office in 1991 working on environmental protection issues. He left GAO for a number of years to work for the Honolulu City Council where he conducted audits of local government agencies. Mr. Gomez returned to GAO headquarters in 1998. Mr. Gomez holds a bachelor's degree in Chemical Engineering from Rice University and a master's degree in Public Policy Studies from the University of Chicago.