STEPHEN A. COBB, CHIEF
LAND DIVISION
ALABAMA DEPARTMENT OF ENVIRONMENTAL MANAGEMENT (ADEM)

Mr. Cobb is a licensed Professional Engineer and a Certified Public Manager with more than 30 years of waste and cleanup program experience. Mr. Cobb has been with ADEM since 1987. During his ADEM career, he has worked in progressively challenging roles as a hazardous waste permitting and corrective action project manager, as supervisor of the RCRA hazardous waste permitting and corrective action program, and more than 18 years as program manager for permitting, corrective action, compliance and enforcement, and hazardous waste notifications for RCRA, CERCLA, Voluntary Cleanup, and Brownfields programs.

Mr. Cobb has also actively participated in various EPA-State workgroups and in national forums with DOD on various hazardous waste management and cleanup issues since the early 1990's, and has served in numerous leadership roles with the Association of State and Territorial Solid Waste Management Officials.

Currently, Mr. Cobb is the Chief of the of the Alabama Department of Environmental Management's Land Division. In this position, Mr. Cobb provides executive management and leadership of ADEM's waste and remediation related regulatory programs, including hazardous waste (RCRA), hazardous substances cleanup (CERCLA), groundwater, petroleum storage tanks (UST), solid waste, scrap tires, drycleaner, brownfield's and voluntary cleanup.
