

Keri N. Powell leads the Air Program at the Southern Environmental Law Center (SELC), the largest nonprofit, nonpartisan environmental legal advocacy organization rooted in and focused on the U.S. South. Keri is widely recognized as one of the nation's leading Clean Air Act experts. She previously served as Senior Clean Air Act Counseling Attorney for the U.S. EPA in Atlanta and as an advisor to U.S. EPA's Office of Enforcement and Compliance Assurance in Washington, D.C. Her legal career also includes litigation of impactful Clean Air Act cases during her tenure with Earthjustice in Washington, D.C. and New York; as leader of the New York Public Interest Research Group's air quality litigation project; and on behalf of Sierra Club, Environmental Integrity Project, Environmental Defense Fund, and others while in private practice. Keri earned a B.A. in Earth Science from Trinity University in San Antonio, Texas, and a J.D. from New York University School of Law. She is licensed to practice law in Georgia, New York, and Washington, D.C.