

Amelia Brace, Biography

Amelia Brace is a U.S. Correspondent, for the Seven Network, one of the five main broadcast channels in Australia. Based in Los Angeles, she has served in that role since early 2017. Prior to that, from 2010-2017, she was a political reporter for the Seven Network, working from bureaus throughout Australia, including reporting on the Australian Parliament from the capital city, Canberra, from 2014-2017. From 2011-2013, she was the Chief of Staff for the North Queensland bureau of Seven News. She graduated from the University of the Sunshine Coast in Queensland, Australia, in 2008, with a degree in journalism.

