Mr. Chairman, distinguished members of the House Committee on Natural Resources, and people of Puerto Rico.

The transferring of the sovereign powers to Puerto Rico's people to freely decide their future relationship with the United States government is a human rights issue, not a civil rights problem.

I am here to testify about the two proposed bills presented for its consideration before this committee, the statehood bill introduced by Congressman Daren Soto and Commissioner Resident Jennifer Gonzalez, and a bill presented by Congresswoman Nydia Velasquez and Congresswoman Alexandra Ocasio Cortez. It is my opinion that neither of these bills abides by the basic principle of self-determination standards under international law.

My name is Manuel Rivera. I represent Puertorriqueños Unidos En Acción, a non-partisan organization created in 1998 by a group of Puerto Rican citizens of different political ideologies to advocate for the Diaspora's empowerment to participate in the self-determination process of the people of Puerto Rico.

Mr. Chairman and members of this honorable committee, international law requires that the colonized territories' sovereignty political powers be transferred to its people and institutions to freely allow its inhabitants to decide their political destiny in a genuinely democratic process. (Please refer to the UN General Assembly Resolution 1514 of 14 December 1960). The overseas territories inhabitants can never relinquish this right under international law, not even by consent. It is an inalienable right of the people.

As you all should know, the Constitution assigns Congress the responsibility for defining the relationship between the federal government and the territories. Moreover, now more than ever, President Joe Biden and the Congress's role in ending the present colonial status in Puerto Rico is significant. Otherwise, it will run counter to the United States' democratic beliefs.

Under the current colonial status, we cannot achieve the freedom to choose our political destiny. To that end, I like to express that there is a great ideological blur regarding these two bills before this committee.

Both bills avoid demanding from the United States government to fulfill its obligation under international law, which is merely to dispose of overseas territories through a transfer of sovereign powers so that its inhabitants can freely exercise their right to self-determination and allow the people to reach a definitive political consensus.

But instead of forcing the metropolis to comply with international law, what it has done is to attribute the problem to us. In other words, the problem here is not the colonizer; it is that we, the Puerto Ricans, cannot agree to a solution to the problem. In other words, blame the victim and leave alone the victimizer.

The bill that has been named as the "Puerto Rico Self-Determination Act" contains several terms that lend themselves to misinterpretation, and the best example is found in the name with which it has been baptized. This law cannot be called a self-determination law if it does not even meet international law's basic requirements, similarly to the statehood bill. Besides, section 2 (Findings) lacks the historical background that could show the colonial relationship and political subordination in which Puerto Ricans have lived with respect to its relations with the United States government. It omits crucial historical facts that demonstrate the suffering of the people under the current conditions of colonialism, such as the Ponce massacre, the bombings by the navy in Vieques and Culebra, the political persecution by the federal agencies, mandatory military conscription, and more recently the imposition of a fiscal control board, among others of the kind.

The truth is that Congress has never been asked to assume its moral and ethical responsibility, and, also, its obligation under international law, to end colonialism in Puerto Rico in all its forms through the transfers of sovereign powers to the people, regardless of the status preferences that Puerto Ricans claim. It is a simple concept. Do you ask the subordinated people if they want to be free or under what conditions you want to render such freedom?

The United States government knows what its obligation is under international law, and they have ignored it. All the bills that have been presented in Congress during the last 123 years of colonial rule on the issue of Puerto Rico's status have exempt the federal government from its responsibility.

Therefore, introducing a bill in Congress that talks about status options or procedural methods to resolve Puerto Rico's political status before attaining the sovereignty powers in our hands would be an effort in vain. Nothing will change.

History has shown that under the current colonial regime, reaching a consensus of the parties is impossible without the sovereign political powers. There are no subsequent consequences or serious commitments to solve the political problem under the current status; if the parties do not reach a consensus, the process then turns into nothing more than an electoral party contest. Meanwhile, Puerto Ricans continue to drag the chains of colonialism.

Mr. Chairman and members of this committee, self-determination is a human right that applies to peoples or nations. The United States is a nation that enjoys the exercise of its sovereignty as a nation-state. Puerto Rico is a Latin American and Caribbean nation whose sovereignty is exercised by the United States.

There are at least two basic procedural requirements to accomplish self-determination:

First, there must be a transfer of the sovereign powers to the people to exercise self-determination validly. Under international law, only free people can freely auto-determine themselves.

Secondly, the metropolis must not threaten or interfere to unduly influence Puerto Rico's people's choice in a plebiscite or assembly process.

Again, self-determination is a human right that applies to people or nations. I like to bring to your attention the words expressed by our honorable Secretary of State Anthony Blinken: The United States has returned to the UN Human Rights Council as an observer “to [advance] a foreign policy centered on democracy, human rights, and equality.”

Therefore, if the United States wants to make America the champion of human rights worldwide, let us bring its own house in order. Let us transfer the sovereign political powers to the colonial territories in possession worldwide. It will allow its people to decide their destiny freely. As you may know, during the Spanish/American war, the United States acquired a significant number of territories overseas as part of the Monroe doctrine in our Caribbean region and the Pacific as booty of war to advance its geopolitical influence and domination.

The present political status in Puerto Rico does not allow a level playing field to negotiate an option. Most significant, the next day, after mimicking a self-determination process, we continue under colonial rule. Puerto Rico's present political status is anti-democratic and violates fundamental principles of human rights.

The United States has manipulated international public opinion to hide the true nature of our subordinated political relation with the metropolis. It has concealed our relationship's reality by maintaining that Puerto Rico's political problem is a matter of United States domestic policy. Is it not the same argument China and other imperial countries make regarding their occupied territories?

The reality is that Puerto Rico has its own national identity, language, and culture, different from that of the United States. Puerto Rico is a nation in all its senses. We should be conscious of the fact that the United States is increasingly becoming a multiethnic society. Nevertheless, a multiethnic society is not the same as one composed of multinational countries, together with its implications that can cause to a central government.

Finally, ladies and gentlemen, enclosed, you will find a third option, a resolution. We are proposing a process for transferring the sovereign political powers to the Puerto Rican people to allow a free exercise of self-determination. We have gathered closed to 800 signatures and 254 comments, and our campaign continues. See exhibit A.

A committee sponsored by PUA prepared the resolution, comprised of the United States Air Force Veteran Captain Antonio A. Camacho, Esq., attorney Beatriz Lopez, Esq., artist Omar Alicea, and others who contributed to the creation of this resolution to some extent. Initially, the committee was formed as the result of a People's Assembly celebrated in Washington, DC, in the summer of 2019 by members of the Puerto Rican community in the United States and Puerto Rico. In response to the peaceful protest in Puerto Rico that forced the ex-governor Ricardo Rosello Navarez from office, a Peoples' Assembly was created. There were various committees formed at the assembly, among them a committee to work on the decolonization of Puerto Rico.

The only path for the Puerto Rican peoples to exercise their right of self-determination is in a free and fair process, only achievable after transferring the sovereign powers to define our future political relationship with the United States.

Let us make America the leading advocate for human rights principles in the world.

Free Puerto Rico.

Respectfully submitted,

MANUEL RIVERA, ESQ.

Recognize Puerto Rico's right for Independence: Resolution for Congress

About this petition

UNITED STATES HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVE RESOLUTION -Via Hand delivery-

Dear Member of Congress:

WHEREAS, there is a Declaration on the Granting of Independence to Colonial Countries and Peoples, contained in General Assembly resolution 1514 (XV) of 14 December 1960,

WHEREAS, the Inter-agency Task Force on Puerto Rico's Status designated by the President of the United States, which submitted its third report on 16 March 2011, reaffirmed that Puerto Rico is a territory subject to United States congressional authority,

WHEREAS, the concern of the people of Puerto Rico regarding violent actions, including repression and intimidation, against Puerto Rican Independence Leaders, including those that have come to light through documents declassified by Federal agencies of the United States,

WHEREAS, the inalienable right of the people of Puerto Rico to Self-Determination and Independence in conformity with General Assembly resolution 1514 (XV) and the applicability of the fundamental principles of that resolution to the question of Puerto Rico status,

WHEREAS, the Puerto Rican people constitute a Latin American and Caribbean nation that has its own unequivocal national identity,

WHEREAS, THIS RESOLUTION CALLS upon us, the Government of the United States of America, to assume its responsibility to expedite a process that will allow the Puerto Rican people to fully exercise their inalienable right to Self-Determination and Independence, in accordance and in full compliance with General Assembly resolution 1514 (XV) and the resolutions and decisions of the United Nations Special Committee concerning Puerto Rico,

WHEREAS, the debate in Puerto Rico on the implementation of a mechanism that would ensure the full participation of representatives of all viewpoints prevailing in Puerto Rico, including a constitutional assembly on status with a basis in the decolonization alternatives recognized in international law, and aware of the principle that any initiative for the solution of the political status of Puerto Rico should originate from the People of Puerto Rico and simultaneously exercise on the day of the Declaration of Independence to allow the people to decide for ones and for all the future relationship between the people of Puerto Rico and the United States,

WHEREAS, the people of Puerto Rico are, and of Right ought to be, Free and Independent,

WHEREAS, THIS RESOLUTION IS BASED ON THE PRINCIPLE that all men are created equal, that they are endowed by their Creator with certain unalienable Rights, that among these are Life, Liberty and the pursuit of Happiness,

WHEREAS, THIS RESOLUTION IS BASED ON THE PRINCIPLE THAT in the Course of Human events, it becomes necessary for one people to dissolve the political bands which have connected them with another, and to assume among the powers of the earth, the separate and equal station to which the Laws of Nature's God entitle them, a decent respect to the opinions of mankind requires that they should declare the causes which impel them to the separation from another country,

NOW, THEREFORE BE IT RESOLVED that the United States recognizes the inalienable right of the people of Puerto Rico to full Self-Determination and Independence in honor of our own principle of Freedom and Democracy.

Member of Congress

- Puerto Ricans have suffered from years of abuse, particularly those who live on the island of Viques. Puerto Rico must be an independent nation.

Comments: It's time to free Puerto Rico. Our men go to war and have battled the continent's wars and in their darkest hour, Trump who is a draft dodger under utilized our military! 1/4 of ours could have rescued ours! God knows since the British were coming ours have saved the English man's ass. Isis calls out PR. Russia calls out PR. Trump wants to cry about a debt that the continent help create but he filed bankruptcy in PR. The hypocrisy is unacceptable. Debt relief is a basic human Right. Like our Puerto Rican supreme court justice Sotomayor stated, " there was a quirk in the bankruptcy code for PR." It's time to let PR govern it's own affairs. Stop treating my people like little kids when they meet military quotas like the warriors they have always been. If we are lazy and we are worthless, than get the fuck out of the way. The truth is that the continent has always leeches off of the Island's economy; furthermore, how much is our warrior's blood who died battling in the middle east worth? I think it is time PR charge the continent for military might. Free Puerto Rico! It's time PR engage in global business and cut out Uncle Sam the middle man.

Comments: Liberty and sovereignty are natural rights. We have been empoverished by United States's colonialim rule. We have been bombed, depleted uranium, experimented with nuclear power and subjected to genocidal acts such as applications of agent orange and cyanide. Our territory houses HAARP in Arecibo, Aguada, Isabela, Aguadilla, Lajas, Salinas, Viques, El Yunque, Buchanan, Palo Seco, etc. US is in debt with the Puertorrican Nation.

Pienso que lo mas importante de todo movimiento se debe centrar en la prosperidad de nuestra Borinquen y para el beneficio de los que valiente y fielmente optaron por quedarse en Puerto Rico. Tambien apoyo esta peticion en nombre de lo que defiendio con orgullo y valentia, Nuestras costumbres y tradiciones.
De otra parte; Como es que podemos convocar para la expulsion y no nos atrevemos a convocar en masa para que Las Leyes de cabotaje Sean revisadas y enmendadas?
Entonces firmo por esto.

Comments: It is time for the United States to recognize that it must end the colonialism over Puerto Rico. Our country needs the transfer of sovereign powers that, like any country in the world, belong to it and that were taken away without its consent 123 years ago. The time has come for the United States to do justice to Puerto Rico and to end its imperialism that is now out of fashion! It is time for the United States to enter the 21st century and not lag behind the world!
