

“Streamlining outdated permitting processes will help America’s electric companies better serve our customers and help our nation achieve energy dominance,” EEI President and CEO Drew Maloney. “We appreciate Chairman Westerman and Representative Golden’s leadership and urge Congress to advance this common-sense legislation that meaningfully removes roadblocks and supports the infrastructure that powers communities across America”