

State Senator Sharon Hewitt (Louisiana)

Biography for House Committee on Natural Resources

Louisiana State Senator Sharon Hewitt is an engineer and a former oil and gas executive, responsible for major assets in the Deepwater Gulf of Mexico. Hewitt began her successful career as one of the first women to work on an offshore drilling rig. At the top of her career, Sharon left her job to become a full-time mother and volunteer, earning the National PTA Life Achievement Award. In 2015, Hewitt was elected to her first political office and now serves on the powerful Senate Finance Committee, is Vice-Chairman of the Senate Transportation Committee, and serves as Vice-Chairman of the Louisiana Legislative Women's Caucus.