

Rachel U. Greszler, M.A., M.P.P.

Experience

The Heritage Foundation Research Fellow in Economics, Budget, and Entitlements, March 2013 – present

- Research, analyze, write, and report on economic issues including: Social Security, pensions, and labor
- Estimate the financial and economic impacts of various tax and entitlement reform proposals
- Contribute to the development and refining of economic models
- Provide commentary and advocacy through media and public speaking events
- Establish and facilitate issue-specific working groups to strategize and implement action plans

Joint Economic Committee, Senate Republicans Senior Economist, June 2006 – February 2013

- Research, analyze, write, and present on economic issues ranging from taxes to the budget and health care
- Report on monthly and weekly economic news to widespread distribution lists
- Provide briefings to and service requests from senators and staffers
- Prepare for committee hearings, including organizing witnesses and preparing hearing memos
- Correspond with economists and analysts from other government agencies and private organizations

School Choice Demonstration Project Research Assistant, June 2005 - June 2006

- Collected and analyzed quantitative and qualitative data for Washington, D.C.'s school voucher program
- Conducted interviews and focus groups and contributed to subsequent qualitative report
- Administered student assessments and coordinated study methodology with Westat Inc.

The Heritage Foundation, Center for Data Analysis Intern, November 2004 - June 2005

- Conducted independent research on the demographic effects of Social Security reform proposals

Georgetown University Teaching Assistant, September 2003 - May 2006

- Assisted in lectures and grading for graduate and undergraduate economics courses

Education

MA in Public Policy - Georgetown University, May 2006

MA in Economics - Georgetown University, May 2005

BA in Economics, Summa cum Laude, Phi Beta Kappa – Mary Washington College, May 2003

Personal

Fourth Presbyterian Church, Small Group Bible Study Leader and Young Mother's Group Leader
Athletics, Collegiate Track and Cross Country Team Member, Competitive Marathon Runner