

Paul Danos

President and CEO of Danos LLC

In his current role, Paul ensures the organization is living the purpose and adhering to the values that are the core of Danos. He leads the vision and strategy development and provides leadership to the highly capable executives who in turn lead strategy and operational execution. He is a third-generation owner and a member of the Danos Board of Directors.

Paul joined Danos in 2005 as project manager of the offshore construction and fabrication division and later served as vice president of U.S. operations. From 2010 to 2017 he held the role of executive vice president. From 2017 to 2020 Paul served as Co-CEO over strategic planning, business development, and the Production Operations service line. Prior to joining Danos, Paul worked at Stonehenge Capital, Arthur Andersen, and Plains All American Pipeline.

Paul serves as the Chair of the National Oceanic Industries Association (NOIA), recently served as president and board member of the South Central Industrial Association (SCIA) and is a graduate of the Council for a Better Louisiana (CABL) Leadership Louisiana program. He is active in his community with leadership roles at his church and serves on the board of Hope Extreme (an education program for underserved youth in Houma). He earned a Bachelor of Science in Finance from Louisiana State University and an MBA from Stanford Graduate School of Business.
