

Joe Quinata is currently the Chief Program Officer of the Guam Preservation Trust and is a Founding and Board Member of the Asian and Pacific Islanders American in Historic Preservation (APIAHiP) and the Advisory Chair for the National Trust for Historic Preservation (NTHP). Mr. Quinata was recently appointed as a Trustee of the National Trust for Historic Preservation representing the National Trust Advisory Group. His career in historic preservation started 30 years ago when he opened the office of the Guam Preservation Trust, a non-profit, public corporation.

His community contributions include the Chairman and Founding Member of the Humatak Community Foundation, Board Member of the Inafa'Maolek Mediation Center, and Executive Council Member of the National History Day, Inc.

Joe Quinata received the 2011 NTHP Trustee's Award for Organizational Excellence for his administration of the Guam Preservation Trust. He was cited an Honorary Architect from the American Institute of Architects, Guam and Micronesia Chapter and a recipient of the Pioneer in Preservation Award honored by APIAHiP.