

Robert "Bobby" Brunoe Bio.

As the General Manager of Natural Resources and Tribal Historic Preservation Officer (THPO), Mr. Brunoe provides direction in carrying out the mission of the Tribes for protection and enhancement of natural and cultural resources, and also the protection of on and off-reservation Treaty Rights.

Mr. Brunoe has worked in the past for the tribes in various areas as the Range and Agriculture Department Manager, Hydropower Relicensing Coordinator and Senior Natural Resources Policy Planner. Before coming to work for the tribes, Mr. Brunoe also worked for the BIA Roads Department, the family business cattle operation, construction company and Logging company.

Over the years, Mr. Brunoe has served on numerous boards and been appointed by officials, ranging from past Oregon governors to the U.S. Secretary of Interior, to assorted advisory panels. A few current and past examples include: Deschutes Basin Land Trust, Oregon Governor's Eastside Forest Advisory Panel, Deschutes River Conservancy, BLM John Day/Snake River Regional Advisory Council, Oregon Watershed Enhancement Board, Central Oregon Regional Strategies Council, Oregon Living with Fire, Governors Wildland Fire Council, Columbia Basin Collaborative, Tribe-State Agency Water Task Force, Warm Springs Timber Company LLC and High Desert Museum. Currently serves as the Chairman of the Tribes Resource Managers Interdisciplinary Team, Co-Chair Deschutes Basin Water Collaborative and Chairman of the Deschutes River Conservancy.

Current and past Tribal Councils have selected Mr. Brunoe to represent the tribes on several negotiation teams over the years (e.g., US vs. OR, Pelton Relicensing and various projects).

Mr. Brunoe has more than 30 years experience in the field of natural and cultural resources, and has worked with many experts over the years.
