

Todd Myers

Washington Policy Center

<https://www.linkedin.com/in/todd-myers-8543274/>

With more than two decades in environmental policy, Todd Myers's experience includes work on a range of environmental issues, including climate policy, forest health, old-growth forests, and salmon recovery. A former member of the executive team at the Washington State Department of Natural Resources, he is a member of the Puget Sound Salmon Recovery Council, the Hanford Advisory Board, and is the environmental director at the Washington Policy Center, a public policy think tank in Seattle.

Professional Experience

2005 – Present

Washington Policy Center, Environmental Director

2005 – 2017

Todd Myers Communications, President

2001 – 2004

Washington State Department of Natural Resources, Director of Communications

1998 – 2000

Seattle SuperSonics, Director of Public Relations

1996 – 1997

Seattle Mariners, Director of Public Affairs

Academic Degrees

2004 M.A. International Studies: Russia, Eastern Europe, Central Asia, Jackson School of International Studies, University of Washington

1991 B.A. Politics, Whitman College

Other Experience

2023

Hanford Advisory Board, Member

2014 – Present

Puget Sound Salmon Recovery Council, Board Member

2007 – 2014

Prescription Drug Assistance Foundation, Executive Director

2009 – 2017

Northwest Association of Biomedical Research, Board Vice President

Books

Time to Think Small: How nimble environmental technologies can solve the planet's biggest problems, Imagine! Publishing, 2022

EcoFads: How the rise of trendy environmentalism is harming the environment, Washington Policy Center, 2011