BIOGRAPHY

Permanent resident of Scammon Bay, Alaska. Rural life includes subsistence hunting and gathering with traditional knowledge passed down for generations. Currently the City Manager for our community for the past 14 years. Responsible for managing operators that oversee the electrical, water and sewer and solid waste facilities, the village police officers that enforce local and state law, the land planner that coordinates future projects, housing planning and public meetings.

Currently the President of Coastal Villages Region Fund board of directors. CVRF, through revenue from the Bering Sea, helps alleviate poverty in our impoverished region. We provide hundreds of jobs in our region, infusing millions of dollars into the local economy. Offer programs that subsidize the cost of living in western Alaska. We own and operate mechanic/welder facilities that help maintain boats and vehicles that residents need to live a subsistence way of life.
