

Jim Anderson

CEO and General Manager, Midstate Electric Cooperative

Jim Anderson is the Chief Executive Officer and General Manager of Midstate Electric Cooperative, a member-owned utility headquartered in La Pine, Oregon serving over 22,000 members across central Oregon. He brings over three decades of experience in the electric industry, having led and served electric cooperatives in several states. His work has focused on ensuring reliable, affordable power while advancing safety and wildfire resilience for rural communities.

