

Alex Epstein is a philosopher and energy expert who argues that "human flourishing" should be the guiding principle of energy and environmental progress. He is the author of the New York Times bestseller The Moral Case for Fossil Fuels and the creator of EnergyTalkingPoints.com—a source of powerful, well-referenced talking points on every energy, environmental, and climate issue.

Epstein, known for his willingness to debate anyone, anytime, has publicly debated leading anti fossil fuel organizations such as Greenpeace, the Sierra Club, and 350.org over the morality of fossil fuel use.

He has spoken about energy, environmental, and climate issues at dozens of universities, including Harvard, Yale, Stanford, and Duke (his alma mater).

In 2014, he won the "most original thinker of the year" award from legendary political commentator John McLaughlin.
