Steve Crim founded Common Sense America in 2022 to advance a common sense approach to our government. Its mission is to highlight failed extremism on both ends of the political spectrum and hold our leaders accountable to the overwhelming majority of Americans who do not feel represented by the extremist policies being forced upon them.

As an organization, we advocate for a common sense approach to policies and solutions. We support efforts that will strengthen the economy, promote energy diversification and innovation and drive solutions that make our communities safer.

In 2023, Common Sense America has become a strong advocate highlighting the negative impact extremism has played on our national security, the threat China has on our economic, social, and cultural security and promoting common sense policies which will lead to greater energy independence by securing and harnessing our critical minerals.

Steve Crim has built a career based on his belief in common sense policy solutions to the biggest challenges facing our country. His journey started with his partnership with former Governor Larry Hogan, but has expanded beyond Maryland. He now advises political leaders and organizations focused on transcending divisive politics and developing common sense solutions to advance our country.
