1           TITLE I—RECOGNITION OF
 2           TRUST RESPONSIBILITY

3   SEC. 101. CONGRESSIONAL STATEMENT OF FINDINGS.

4           The Congress, after careful review of the Federal 5 Government’s historical and special legal relationship
 6 with, and resulting responsibilities to, American Indian 7 people, finds that—

8                   (1) the relationship of Indian tribes to the 9 United States is founded in part on the settled doc-
 10 trine of the law of nations that when a stronger sov-
 11 ereign assumes authority over a weaker sovereign, 12 the stronger one assumes a duty of protection for 13 the weaker one, which does not surrender its right
 14 to self-government;

15                   (2) the United States fiduciary responsibilities
 16 to Indians also constitutes a foundational basis for,
 17 not merely a function of, congressional legislation re-

1        regarding Indians because it constitutes an inherent 2        presupposition of our constitutional structure, which 3        provides an inherent limit on the exercise and appli-
4        cation of the Indian Commerce Clause and the Trea-
5        ty Clause of the Constitution;

6            (3) the United States fiduciary responsibilities
7        to Indians also are founded in part on specific com-
8        mitments made through written treaties and agree-
9        ments securing peace, in exchange for which Indians
10       have surrendered claims to vast tracts of land, which 11       provided legal consideration for permanent, ongoing 12       performance of Federal trust duties; and

13           (4) the foregoing historic Federal-tribal rela-
14       tions and understandings have benefitted the people
15       of the United States as a whole for centuries and es-
16       tablished enduring and enforceable Federal obliga-
17       tions to which the national honor has been com-
18       mitted.

19       SEC. 102. CONGRESSIONAL REAFFIRMATION OF POLICY.

20       Pursuant to its constitutionally vested authority over
21       Indian affairs, the Congress hereby reaffirms the following
22       regarding the proper discharge of the United States fidu-
23       ciary responsibilities to Indians—

24           (1) enforceable fiduciary duties necessarily arise
25       when the United States assumes control or super-

1 vision over tribal trust assets even though nothing is 2 said expressly in the governing statutes or regula-
3 tions, unless Congress has expressly specified other-
4 wise;

5 (2) in general, the most exacting common-law
6 fiduciary standards which govern private trustees
7 also govern the United States when it manages In-8 dian trust assets, and enforceable Federal trust du-
9 ties for Indian trust asset management are not lim-
10 ited to the express terms of statutes and regulations;

11 (3) the fact that the United States simulta-
12 neously performs another task for another interest
13 that Congress has obligated it by statute to do does 14 not compromise or limit the United States enforce-15 able fiduciary obligations to Indians; and

16 (4) the United States fiduciary responsibilities
17 to Indian tribes include and are not limited by a 18 duty to promote tribal self-determination regarding 19 governmental authority and economic development.
