

Amber Schulz-Oliver

Executive Director

Affiliated Tribes of Northwest Indians

Amber Schulz-Oliver (Yakama/ Wasco) is the executive director of Affiliated Tribes of Northwest Indians (ATNI) and has established firm roots in Portland, Oregon. ATNI is an organization dedicated to promoting tribal self-determination and sovereignty and serves 57 Tribal Nations in the Pacific Northwest.

Amber previously served as Executive Director of Affiliated Tribes of Northwest Indians Economic Development Corporation (ATNI-EDC) and its subsidiary Community Development Financial Institution (CDFI), ATNI Financial Services.

Amber received a Bachelor of Arts from Oberlin College and a Master of Business Administration from Willamette University. She serves on several boards, including the Center for Indian Country's Leadership Council, Potlatch Fund, Nch'i Wana Housing, and on the advisory board of Ecotrust Community Development Entity and Ecotrust Investments. She is committed to environmental stewardship, sustainability, and service to the Native community. In her free time, she enjoys trying new Portland restaurants, beadwork, international travel, and scaling small mountains.