

FBI Offering $25,000 Rewards for Information in Series of Attacks Against Reproductive Health Service Facilities

fbi.gov/news/press-releases/fbi-offering-25000-rewards-for-information-in-series-of-attacks-against-reproductive-health-service-facilities

January 19, 2023

The FBI is seeking the public's help to identify the individual(s) responsible for a series of attacks and threats targeting reproductive health service facilities across the country.

As part of a national awareness effort, the FBI is offering rewards of up to $25,000 for information leading to the identification, arrest, and conviction of the suspect(s) responsible for these crimes.

"Today's announcement reflects the FBI's commitment to vigorously pursue investigations into crimes against pregnancy resource centers, faith-based organizations, and reproductive health clinics across the country," said FBI Director Christopher Wray. "We will continue to work closely with our national, state, and local law enforcement partners to hold responsible anyone who uses extremist views to justify their criminal actions."

The FBI can investigate the incidents as potential acts of domestic violent extremism, Freedom of Access to Clinic Entrances Act (FACE Act) violations, or violent crime matters, depending on the facts of each case.

Links to seeking information posters for these arsons and potential FACE Act violations, as well as press releases about them, are included below.

Anyone with information is asked to call 1-800-CALL-FBI (1-800-225-5324), contact their local FBI office, or submit a tip online at tips.fbi.gov. You may remain anonymous.

Seeking Information Posters

Longmont, Colorado June 25, 2022

Gresham, Oregon June 10, 2022

Unknown Suspect Lincolnton, North Carolina June 25, 2022

Unknown Suspects Amherst, New York June 7, 2022

Madison, Wisconsin May 8, 2022

Keizer, Oregon May 8, 2022