

Joe Abraham is a lifelong Illinois resident, husband, and father of three. A corporate finance professional at a Fortune 50 company, he has dedicated his life to family and community. Joe is also the father of Katie, who was killed by a drunk-driving illegal alien in January 2025. Since her death, he has spoken on national media, including Fox News, and published multiple op-eds to raise awareness about the impact of current policies on families like his.
