

Soren Dayton is a Policy Advocate at Protect Democracy where he leads the organization's policy and advocacy to work to shore up democratic institutions and protect the separation of powers. Previously Mr. Dayton has worked in a variety of advocacy and policy functions in the private sector, in support of non-profits, and campaigns. He also took an 18 month sabbatical to work with International Justice Mission, a Christian human rights NGO, in India to fight human trafficking by strengthening the rule of law.
