The Honorable Mary Gay Scanlon
Ranking Member
Subcommittee on the Constitution
and Limited Government
Committee on the Judiciary
2142 Rayburn House Office Building

Dear Chairman Roy and Ranking Member Scanlon:

As organizations that work to protect and advance religious freedom and civil rights, we write to again voice our strong opposition to the religiously discriminatory ideas underlying the Subcommittee's May 13 hearing. This hearing, like the first held on February 10, is an attack on religious freedom, a fundamental American value and cornerstone of our democracy that ensures we are all free to believe as we choose and that no religion is favored or disfavored.

The hearings, "Sharia-Free America: Why Political Islam & Sharia Law Are Incompatible with the U.S. Constitution," are among the latest in a long line of attacks that are designed to sow fear and conspiracy theories about an entire religion and a diverse community for political gain. Such attacks undermine our nation's values of religious freedom for all.

The Constitution protects religious freedom for all. Indeed, Thomas Jefferson explained that the Virginia Statute for Religious Freedom, the model for the Free Exercise and Establishment Clauses of the First Amendment, would ensure religious freedom for "the Jew and the Gentile, the Christian and Mahometan, the Hindoo, the infidel of every denomination." Given our nation's robust, longstanding commitment to the freedom of religion and belief, it is no surprise that the United States is among the most religious, and religiously diverse, nations in the world.

As a result of repeated waves of anti-Muslim rhetoric, Muslims across the country have suffered violence, intimidation, and stigmatization. Other religious communities have also been singled out and face harm. Discriminatory rhetoric and policies that deny any one religious community the right to practice their faith are harmful to everyone as this undermines the protections that apply equally to all of us, no matter our religion or belief.

We believe in the enduring strength and wisdom of our Constitution and our nation's promise of religious freedom for all. We urge you to uphold these foundational constitutional principles in the work of the Subcommittee.

Sincerely,
