

Richard A. Fierce
Senior Vice President
Fluor Enterprises, Inc.

Richard Fierce is the head of sales for Fluor's Infrastructure business line. In that role, he has global responsibility for sales, marketing and business development for transportation, commercial & institutional, telecommunications, alternative power and water projects.

Fierce joined Fluor in 1991, and spent 16 years in Fluor's legal department. Starting as Senior Counsel handling litigation management, he moved into contract law and was Managing General Counsel responsible for the Infrastructure business line when he transferred into his present role in early 2008.

Fierce has a BS in Civil Engineering from the University of Illinois and a JD summa cum laude from Southern Illinois University. Prior to joining Fluor, Fierce was a construction litigator, practicing in St. Louis, Kansas City, and Dallas.
