

Aaron C. Hilkemann - President & CEO

Aaron C. Hilkemann joined Duncan Aviation in January of 1996 as Executive Vice President and Chief Operating Officer. In August of 1997, he was appointed as President of Duncan Aviation, Inc. In this position, Aaron provides strategic leadership and direction to Duncan Aviation, Inc. to ensure future development and growth for the enterprise.

Aaron was past Chairman of the Associate Member Advisory Council (AMAC) of NBAA and also served on the Board of NBAA. He is currently Vice-Chairman of the board for the General Aviation Manufacturers' Association (GAMA). He also serves as Chair of the GAMA Airworthiness and Maintenance Policy Committee, which represents manufacturer and repair station organizations on issues affecting continued airworthiness and maintenance of general aviation products.

Prior to joining Duncan Aviation, Aaron was Vice President and Director of Financial Operations at FirstTier Financial, Inc. His background includes eight years of public accounting experience with KPMG Peat Marwick where he served as a Senior Audit Manager and concentrated in the areas of manufacturing, construction and banking industries.

Aaron and his wife, Jennifer, have a blended family of seven children, two boys and five girls.