

Hon. Terry Wilbur, County Clerk, Oswego County, N.Y.

Terry Wilbur, a lifelong resident of Oswego County, N.Y., brings his deep connection to rural life and agriculture into his leadership as County Clerk. Raised in the county, Wilbur understands the unique needs of rural communities from his experience of farming and rural representation in local government. His hands-on experience with hard work has shaped his advocacy for the farmers and residents of his County.

Wilbur's public service spans across local and state levels. He represented Hannibal, N.Y., on the Oswego County Legislature, where he was selected as the Majority Leader. In addition, he serves as Vice Chair of the New York State Association of Counties (NYSAC) Agricultural and Rural Affairs Committee. With the National Association of Counties, Wilbur has served on leadership with the Agriculture and Rural Affairs Steering Committee, Membership Standing Committee, Programs and Services Standing Committee and Rural Action Caucus. Prior to his county work, Wilbur also worked in the New York State Assembly for Assembly Minority Leader Will Barclay.

Terry Wilbur resides in Hannibal, NY with his family.
