

Lew S. Bleiweis, A.A.E., is the Executive Director of the Greater Asheville Regional Airport Authority in Asheville, North Carolina. Mr. Bleiweis has over 25 years' experience in the aviation industry with the majority of his time focused on airport management, including areas of properties, operations, maintenance, purchasing, and risk management.

Prior to his relocation to Asheville, Mr. Bleiweis served as the Director of Properties for the Louisville Regional Airport Authority, Louisville, Kentucky. He joined the Louisville Regional Airport Authority in 1999 as Properties Manager and was then promoted to Director of Technical Services. Prior to that time, Mr. Bleiweis held several positions with the Kansas City Aviation Department, Kansas City, Missouri and the Roanoke Regional Airport Commission, Roanoke Virginia.

Mr. Bleiweis is a member of Airports Council International-North America currently serving as Board Member for the US Policy Council and served on the Executive Committee as Chair of the U.S. Policy Board. He is also a Board Member for Airports Council International World Governing Board. Mr. Bleiweis is a member of American Association of Airport Executives having served on the Board of Directors, and also served as the President of the Southeast Chapter of the American Association of Airport Executives. He is an Accredited Airport Executive (A.A.E.) by the American Association of Airport Executives, and he received his Bachelor of Science degree in Aviation Business Administration/Airport Management from Embry-Riddle Aeronautical University.