Jason is a seasoned industry veteran with more than twenty years of senior airport management experience in both the public and private sector. He previously served as the Senior Operations Project Director for Airports Worldwide, Inc. During his time at Airports Worldwide, Inc., Jason was responsible for airport planning and development activities, including strategic deployment of capital and guiding the efficient execution of projects at various airports within the Airports Worldwide, Inc. portfolio. Additionally, he provided guidance and oversight for Air Service Development.

Prior to his tenure with Airports Worldwide, Inc., Jason was the Assistant Director of Airports for the Horry County Department of Airports in South Carolina. In that role, he oversaw Myrtle Beach International Airport's operations and airfield maintenance; the communications center; planning and development; and three General Aviation airports. Jason also served nine years at Hartsfield-Jackson Atlanta International Airport in various business development, properties, and operational roles.

Jason is a licensed commercial pilot and former flight instructor. He graduated from the Florida Institute of Technology with a B. S. degree in Aviation Management and Flight, and a Master's degree in Public Administration with concentration in Aviation Policy from the University of Nebraska.

Jason currently serves on industry boards including Airport Council International - North America (ACI) as Chair of the U.S. Policy Committee and is a member of the ACI's Executive Committee. He also serves on the Board of Directors for NUAIR – a nonprofit driving economic development through innovations in Uncrewed Aircraft Systems and Advanced Air Mobility with a primary goal to safely integrate into the national airspace system.

Jason is married to his wife Cara. The couple have three children together.
