

James C. Fowler leads Crowley Shipping, the country's largest commercial employer of U.S. mariners, as its Senior Vice President and General Manager.

Crowley Shipping operates a diverse portfolio of U.S. and foreign flag vessels, including container ships, petroleum and chemical tankers and articulated tug & barges, general cargo vessels, roll-on roll-off ships, liquefied natural gas marine bunkering vessels, ship assist and escort tugboats, and offshore wind, oil, and gas support vessels. The company manages a network of advanced energy services including LNG storage and distribution, port electrification, and industrial and small utility microgrid power solutions. Crowley Shipping provides a comprehensive range of marine engineering services, including vessel and waterfront infrastructure design, shipyard management, and onsite consulting and project management for maritime projects worldwide.

Previously, Mr. Fowler served as Managing Director for Marine and Stevedoring Operations at Cooper Marine and Executive Vice President for Blakeley BoatWorks. He was Vice President for Information Technology and Assistant Vice President at The Cooper Group. Mr. Fowler served as Operations Manager for Crescent Towing in New Orleans, Louisiana and as a manager of stevedoring and maintenance operations at Cooper Consolidated in Darrow, Louisiana.

Mr. Fowler earned his Master of Business Administration with a specialization in finance from the A.B. Freeman School of Business at Tulane University. He obtained a Bachelor of Science degree from the Culverhouse College of Commerce and Business Administration at The University of Alabama, where he also served as the president of the Student Government Association and student representative to The University of Alabama System Board of Trustees.

Mr. Fowler currently serves on the board of directors of the American Waterway Operators. He recently served as Vice Chairman of the Mobile Airport Authority and board member of the National Maritime Security Advisory Committee, Mobile Area Chamber of Commerce, Mobile Industrial Development Board, Reese's Senior Bowl, Propeller Club of Mobile, Regions Bank Mobile Area Advisory Board, and Culverhouse School of Business and Administration Board of Visitors. He and his wife Meg reside in Jacksonville, Florida and are parents to their two young children, James M. Fowler and Catherine E. Fowler.