

Bio for Reema Griffith

Reema Griffith has served as the Executive Director of the Washington State Transportation Commission since 2005. Under her leadership, the Transportation Commission serves as the State Tolling Authority, sets the fares and policies for the Washington State Ferry System, authors the state's 20-year transportation plan, approves public/private partnerships, administers the Autonomous Vehicle work group, provides policy and fiscal guidance to the State Legislature and Governor, and conducts special studies on finance and policy issues, including assessing Road Usage Charging since 2012. Prior to the Commission, past positions held include serving eight years as a Senior Policy and Fiscal Analyst for the State House and Senate Transportation Committees, and serving as the Executive Policy Advisor to the Director of the Department of Licensing.