

Jordan K. Krahenbuhl
Executive Director
Plumbing Heating Cooling Contractors of Nevada

Jordan K. Krahenbuhl was raised in his father's Plumbing and Heating Company in Salt Lake City, Utah. He completed his apprenticeship from 1980 to 1984 and attained the status of Journeyman Plumber in 1984. Following his training, he served as the Qualifying Employee for his father's company in Arizona and Nevada, and he is currently a licensed journeyman plumber and master plumber in the state of Nevada.

Mr. Krahenbuhl dedicated 30 years to the Clark County Building Department, from 1988 to 2018. He began his career there as a plumbing and mechanical inspector and held the position of lead plumbing and mechanical code official for approximately 27 years.

His involvement in local and national code development dates back to 1991, during which he chaired the local plumbing and mechanical code committees for several years. He is a lifetime member of the International Association of Plumbing and Mechanical Officials (IAPMO) and served two terms on the IAPMO Board of Directors from 2000 to 2006. Additionally, he has contributed to multiple code committees and served on IAPMO's Products and Standards Committee for many years.

Since 2019, Mr. Krahenbuhl has held the position of Executive Director of the Plumbing Heating Cooling Contractors of Nevada, where he represents members throughout the state.
