

Nathan C. Bachman
Loram Technologies, Inc. (LTI)

Experience: Since joining LTI in 2007, Nate has served as Market Development Manager, Service Planning Director and Vice President of Operations before taking his current position of VP of Sales & Business Development in 2014. Previously, he was a sales and account executive for Alltel Communications Products and Polycom, a manufacturer of wireless and conferencing technology.

Board Participation: In September 2016, Nate was elected to serve on the Railway Engineering-Maintenance Suppliers Association (REMSA) Board of Directors. REMSA is a non-profit membership-based organization in Washington, D.C. that represents and promotes companies and individuals who manufacture or sell products and services in the railroad maintenance-of-way industry.

Education: Nate holds a B.A. in Public Relations and a master's degree from Texas A&M in Industrial Distribution.