

Eduardo Sosa

Biographical Information

Eduardo's direct SBA experience has encompassed about half of his 50 years in banking. As both a loan originator and now as head of Commerce National Bank's SBA Department he has helped small businesses grow their employment base. In business, he is most proud of helping small business owners' build strong financial futures for themselves and their families.

Eduardo attained a BBA in accounting from Pan American University in Edinburg, Texas.

Eduardo is married to Nancy, his high school sweetheart, for over 50 years. Nancy and Eduardo are parents to two grown children and grandparents of one very smart and handsome young man.