

Eliza Diop “Ellie” is a business and strategy coach. Ellie started her career as a relationship care specialist at American Express.

Today, she’s the owner of a multi-million dollar business and a mother of four. She has taught thousands of women how to start their business, build their business credit and scale up using digital marketing strategies.

Ellie leveraged her years of experience in Sales, Marketing, and Leadership Development to start her business after being laid off right before the most recent pandemic. She used her $1,200 stimulus check to start her Business Coaching company, Eliza Revella Consulting Services, and built a multi-million dollar business in one short year.

She’s known as Ellie Talks Money on social media, where she has a following of over 240k on all social platforms.

Ellie’s success story and advice have been featured in Business Insider, Black Enterprise, Entrepreneur, and Univision.

Through her coaching programs and courses, Ellie has helped thousands of entrepreneurs get started and build the business and life they desire.

Ellie graduated from Oberlin College with a Bachelor’s degree in Political Science and Africana Studies.

With her wide range of experience and story of resilience, Ellie has become a highly sought-after speaker, passionate about teaching other women and moms how to start their businesses and scale them up to 7-figures.
