

Rick Baumann

Bio

Rick Baumann was born in New York City in 1948. He enlisted in the military in 1966 and studied at American University while he was serving. He was honorably discharged in 1969 and had already begun working in the seafood business at the company he founded – Murrells Inlet Seafood. He founded the non-profit Trees For Tomorrow in 2012. Rick became a Riley Fellow at Furman University in 2019. He has often advocated for wildlife, the environment and clean water.