

Jessica Campos- Bio

Jessica Campos is the Women's Business Center Director for the Center for Rural Affairs where she empowers women and Latino entrepreneurs and promotes the growth of small business in rural Nebraska through essential training. Before starting her job with the Center for Rural Affairs Jessica was a Senior Business Banking Specialist for Wells Fargo Bank, where she gained financial knowledge and became a business advocate. After a successful career helping small businesses financially throughout Grand Island, Hastings, and Kearney, Jessica now combines her passion for helping small businesses and entrepreneurs with helping rural communities thrive.

“I moved to Grand Island, Nebraska, from Houston, Texas, when I was 6 years old and have known Nebraska to be my home ever since,”

“Rural America holds a special place in my heart because I have had the opportunity to grow up here—the values I have gained growing up in a small community are the same values I would like my children to grow up with.”
